GOVERNOR SENDS GAS PRICE PETITIONS TO PRESIDENT
Announces Fuel Facts Web Site to Provide Money Saving Tips at the Pump

PHOENIX – Governor Janet Napolitano today wrote to President George W. Bush and enclosed petitions signed by more than 37,000 Arizonans urging the President to ask Congress to act on comprehensive legislation on an energy policy that would result in lower gas prices.

“Arizonans need immediate and permanent relief from the high costs of fuel,” Governor Napolitano said. “The President and Congress must act now to reduce our dependency on traditional fuels and the rising prices that affect America’s families.”

Additionally, the Governor announced a 14-week fuel facts campaign dedicated to providing fuel-saving tips and other gasoline-related information to Arizona consumers. “The Governor’s Fuel Facts” will include a weekly message and Web page with information to help Arizonans get the most out of a tank of gas.

State agencies including the Arizona Departments of Weights and Measures, Commerce, Environmental Quality, Transportation, Public Safety, and the Governor’s Office of Highway Safety will contribute to the Web page.

“For far too long, consumers have experienced drastic spikes in gas prices while oil companies rake in record profits,” the Governor said. “This information will be helpful to Arizonans who need to stretch their dollars at the pump.”
